—The dedication ceremonies of the new Hunter Memorial school at Tidouite will take place on February 22.

—There's a big cut in prices of fleeced and all-wool underwear at Hopkins' during this February clearance sale. Don't miss it.

—The subject of Rev. W. O. Calhoun's sermon at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening will be "Do angels visit the world at the present time?"

—A white crocheted shawl was recently picked up off the street and has been left at this office for the owner, who can have it by calling and making the proper identification.

—WANTED.—Man of intelligence and capable of energetic application for work in this county upon a proposition which will yield good returns. Worth investigating. Address, J. L. BARBER, 413 Lewis Block, Pittsburg, Penna. 3t

—It is claimed that an Armstrong county well is producing refined oil. It wouldn't be hard to believe that a better article of "refined" oil could be found most anywhere than that we are using nowadays and pay 15 cents a gallon for.

—That new spot on the sun has been interfering with the radiation of heat in this direction no doubt, and it would not surprise us to learn that the groundhog had discovered the spot long before the schoolboys did. And then seeing his shadow besides, oh dear!

—The Tionesta high school alumni will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Ida Fones this Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The attendance of all members who can make it convenient to be present is desired, and business of importance to the alumni will be taken up.

—Considerable coal is being hauled through here of late. Whether any of it lodges in town we do not know, but it looks sort of old fashioned like, if not very cheerful, to note these sights of 20 years ago, when they were quite common, before the advent of natural gas.

—The offer of twelve scholarships in the Clarion Normal to students from Forest county has attracted marked attention throughout the state. This spring term at that excellent institution will open March 28. If you are going away to school you will make no mistake in going there; and it would be wise to engage a room at once.

—The REPUBLICAN has received the 8th biennial report of the Huntingdon Reformatory. At present there is but one young man from Forest county detained in the institution. Warren county has 9, Venango 4 and Erie county 32. The report covers seventy-five pages. It is neatly printed and nicely bound. All of the work was done in the reformatory printing office.

—People driving in from the country Monday morning of this week, declare that the roads were worse drifted by the snow and winds of Sunday afternoon and evening than they have ever been before. The well-beaten tracks were practically obliterated, in fact, so that it was difficult to find the road or distinguish it from the fields and meadows where there were no fences.

—A meeting of the citizens of Tionesta and vicinity is called for next Sabbath afternoon at the Presbyterian church, for the purpose of remonstrating against the passage of the "Sunday bill" now before the Pennsylvania Legislature. The proposition before the Legislature is to legalize the sale of many articles now prohibited on the Sabbath day, and opposed to which are all Christian denominations. This is a matter in which every respecter of the Christian Sabbath is interested and it is hoped a large audience will be present. The meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

—W. D. Smith, agent for the Willtom gas light, has been fitting up many of our private and business houses with that excellent article this week. Should any of our readers desire a trial of this new light they should avail themselves of the present opportunity. No expense if you are not satisfied. Orders may be left at this office if you don't see Mr. Smith.

—T. D. Collins, the Forest county lumberman, is now in California, and in company with D. G. Curtis, of Ludlow, and Levi Smith, of Warren, has purchased a large timber tract at Eureka, Cal. We are informed that it is estimated the timber purchased will cut 125,000,000 feet of lumber, and the purchase price is about half a million dollars. Mr. Collins has other large timber interests in California and Washington.—(Sheffield Observer.)

—Officials of the Redbank Telephone company, a comparatively new concern designed to reach the farming and sparsely settled communities, were here last week soliciting stock subscriptions with a view to extending their line to this community. They were successful in getting a number of subscribers for stock, but whether enough to warrant them in coming to town with the line we did not learn. At present the line is in operation as far as this direction as Leeper.

—The trustees have received a check for $5.2 from the generous benefactor of Forest county who gave the twelve scholarships to the Clarion Normal for the spring term. This is certainly one of the most generous gifts ever recorded in this part of the State. It is better to spend money in educating worthy boys and girls than to hoard it up and then die and leave it all. Forty-three dollars and a half pays for a spring term scholarship. Where is there another man who will pay for one?—(Clarion Republican.)

—The third annual poultry show of the Forest County association was a pronounced success in many of its features, particularly so in the matter of the fine stock exhibited and that because it was largely of home production. The attendance was fair during the week and all who looked over the display were much pleased with the many sleek looking "birds" on exhibition. Among the pet stock shown were a number of coops of handsome pigeons, a number of Belgian hares owned by Frank Brookhouser, and a 15-pound bronze gobbler, the property of Fred. Keller.

—George Osgood, who has kept a pretty accurate tab on the weather so far this winter, finds that during October, November and December 14 1/2 inches of snow fell, and during January 32 1/2 inches, making a total of 46 1/2 inches to the 1st of February. Zero weather set in on Dec. 11, when the mercury fell to 10° below, Dec. 12, 8° below, 15th 10° and 16th 8° below. Jan. 9th zero, 15th 2° below, 26th 5° below, 29th, the coldest thus far, 20° below, and 30th 6° below. These figures become more valuable with age, and if interested you should preserve them for future reference.

—Master carpenter H. W. Roberts and his force of men have completed their work for the present along the T. & O. C. branch road. When the weather will permit new bridges will be built from Pine creek to Pioneer. The company runs two trains over the line each year, a practice compulsory in order to hold the franchise. After each trip it is necessary to remove the Pine creek bridge, which is not strong enough to stand high water. From a critical viewpoint that railroad down the east bank of the creek is of about as much use as the second tail for a spotted pup.—(Tionesta Herald.)

—Potatoes are cheaper now than they have been for years at this season. The country, according to commission merchants, is overstocked. In the produce yards to-day, potatoes were selling on the track at 35 and 40 cents a bushel and 50 and 55 cents a bushel at the store. The apple supply is in deplorable condition, there being enough stock in storage; it is said, to supply the country until next fall. There are said to be 2,000,000 barrels in storage in New York state alone. Cabbage is also a drug on the market and is selling wholesale at $9 a ton, or less than a half cent a pound. Last year at this time, it brought three or four times that amount.—(Pittsburg Leader.)

—All hangings in Pennsylvania after June 13, 1905, must take place in either the Eastern or the Western Penitentiary, if a bill introduced into the house should pass. No announcement of the time for execution is to be made; the exact time to be fixed by the warden of the prison and the week in which the execution takes place must begin not more than eight weeks, nor less than four weeks from the day of sentence. The rope is still to be the method of execution. The prisoner is to be removed to the penitentiary within 10 days after the governor issues the death warrant, and there kept in solitary confinement until the day of execution.

—The funeral of the only child of Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser, of Mayburg, which died on the 31st ult., was held Friday afternoon at the home of the grandfather, H. M. Zahniser, in Tionesta. Six of the latter's sons were present, four of whom are ministers in the Free Methodist church. The services were in charge of Rev. W. B. Rouse, of Oil City, Pa. Rev. W. O. Calhoun offered prayer and short addresses were given by Rev. Rouse and Rev. A. D. Zahniser. The pall-bearers were four young girls, Emma Arner, Marie Dunn, Maude Canfield and Essie Scowden. The deceased was a sweet little girl of seven months, but a little portion of suffering was her lot, chicken-pox and whooping-cough. Through it all she manifested the greatest patience.

—The rapidity with which chestnut timber, both the wood and the bark, is coming into use for tanning purposes is quite amazing, and should be a valuable pointer to farmers and others who have small lots scattered here and there, and which they should jealously guard as it will all be sought after sooner or later by tanneries. For instance, here is an item from Titusville which indicates what is being done in this line: Business at the Queen City tannery is increasing daily, the company now having more than it can properly attend to. The farmers in this vicinity have been hauling chestnut wood to the company for the past few days at the rate of from 100 to 135 wagonloads a day, and several carloads arrive daily. From 5,000 to 8,000 cords are stored in the yards at the present time, and the management says it is the busiest period in the company's career.

—Osgood & Jamieson, the local lumber firm, shipped 116 cars of ties and lumber from Oil City during the month of January and all of the stuff was cut from farms in this immediate vicinity. There were more than 18,000 ties in the shipment, one-third of which were of chestnut and the remainder of white oak. The average price paid for each tie was 50 cents, or a total of more than $9,000, that were paid farmers for ties alone in one month. Most of the stuff brought to Oil City is of second growth. This firm opened a lumber yard and shipping station here two years ago last fall and have made a specialty of buying the timber lots of the farmers in this section. During the time they have been located here they have purchased and shipped an incredible amount of hard wood in this section to various distant points. Oil City has never claimed to be a lumber center, but these figures will indicate that lumbering is not one of the least of her industries.—(Derriek.)

—William Matha, for many years a resident of this community, and who is well remembered by all our older class of citizens, died at his home in Franklin Grove, Illinois, Jan. 7th, 1905. Mr. Matha came to this country from Germany in the early fifties when quite a young man, having acquired a good knowledge of the carpenter's trade, which he followed for a number of years, afterward buying and clearing the farm at present owned by Henry Glassner, on German Hill. It has been more than 30 years since he removed from here to Illinois, where he had been engaged for some years in the mercantile business. He was an industrious and energetic citizen and had many warm friends while he lived in this community. The funeral was held from his late home on the 10th ult. His wife, formerly Miss Katherine Klinefister, and a sister of George Klinefister, of Nebraska, Pa., survives; also three grown daughters. The deceased was aged 69 years, 11 months and 9 days.

Dwelling House Burned.

The residence of Harry K. Vail, whose farm is located on Fleming Hill, two miles from West Hickory, was destroyed by fire last Friday evening shortly after six o'clock. When discovered the flames had gained such headway that scarcely any of the household goods could be saved, much less the building.—The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective flue, the entire roof and upper portion of the building being enveloped before any one was aware of the fire. Mr. Vail had sprained his back a short time before, and in his efforts to save as many as possible of the goods, his injuries were rendered still worse, and he was somewhat burned about the hands and face, but not seriously. The loss will probably reach above a thousand dollars, and is a total one, as there was no insurance on the property, and the loss falls quite heavily on Mr. Vail.

The Odd Fellows' Banquet.

The annual banquet of Tionesta Lodge, No. 369, I. O. O. F., held last Friday night, Feb. 3d, was one of the most pleasant and enjoyable social events the town has witnessed for some time. At an early hour the brethren, accompanied by their wives or daughters and a few invited guests, gathered at the lodge rooms where a short tregue was pleasantly spent in games of various kinds and social intercourse. About 9:30 the party adjourned to Bovard's hall where the banquet was served. This part of the program was in charge of the ladies of the Tionesta W. R. C., and from the past reputation of these ladies as caterers the fact need only be mentioned to prove that everything was of the best and served in the finest style. The hall was tastefully decorated with evergreen and bunting and the long tables with their snowy linen, silver and cut flowers added the finishing touches to the beautiful scene. Covers were laid for over ninety and all the places were filled. And to say that all did full justice to the feast of good things is expressing it mildly. At the close of the banquet, with S. D. Irwin acting presiding as toastmaster, came the responses to a few toasts. Short remarks were made by L. Agnew, William Hood, A. C. Brown, J. R. Ault, Rev. W. O. Calhoun, C. A. Randall and T. F. Ritchey, these being interspersed by several excellent piano selections by Misses Olson and Bertina Yought, and a fine recitation, "The Inventor's Wife," by Miss Kathleen Joyce. The party adjourned in the small hours of the morning feeling that the evening had been one of great pleasure and profit.

New Presbyterian Pastor.

From a Minneapolis, Minn., paper the following is taken concerning the newly called pastor of the Tionesta Presbyterian church, and who will begin his work here next Sabbath:

"Rev. P. J. Slonaker, Ph. D., moderator of the presbytery of Minneapolis and pastor of Highland Park Presbyterian church since October, 1904, has placed his resignation in the hands of the congregation and will probably preach his farewell sermon next Sabbath. Dr. Slonaker is an earnest, forceful and impressive speaker, and the congregation will have a task to find another to whom the intelligent audience which gather at Highland Park church will listen with the degree of pleasure and profit noticeable in the past. No matter what the subject of the sermon might be he never failed to find in it, "Christ and him crucified." During his short pastorate the membership of Highland Park church has increased considerably over one hundred, eighteen having been received at the last communion on Sabbath, the 15th inst. But it was in his pastoral work that Dr. Slonaker excelled. When sickness, sorrow or bereavement, entered the home he was there; the messenger of mercy and hope to the dying and of comfort and consolation to the living. * * * We are pleased to note that the congregation at its last meeting voted him a purse of one hundred dollars, which is ample proof of the high appreciation in which his services have been held. Dr. Slonaker has two calls, one to Pennsylvania, and one to Kansas, and it is not known yet which he has decided to accept; but whether he goes east or south, he has the best wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintances."

Overcoats, clothing, hats and caps all get the same out at the Hopkins clearance sale.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

—Hon. C. A. Hill left for Barborton, Ohio, Monday, on business.

—Mrs. James D. Davis was home from Oil City a few hours Monday.

—Mrs. G. W. Noblit is visiting her mother at Barnes, Pa., this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Miller visited Franklin friends over last Sabbath.

—Mrs. H. B. Felt and the children are in Bradford visiting her mother and sister.

—J. B. Erb was down from West Hickory Monday and made this office a pleasant call.

—Harry Rudolph, of Newtown Mills, was transacting business at the county capital Monday.

—W. B. Dutton and J. R. Sutton, of Pleasantville, were business visitors here last Wednesday.

—Gus B. Evans and Arthur Ledebur Endeavor, were guests of M. E. Abbott over Monday night.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Clarke, of Tidouite, were here last Wednesday to attend the poultry show.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wertz are visiting relatives and friends at the latter's former home in Lancaster, Pa.

—A. J. Fleming, Joseph Morgan and Hart Lawrence were down from Grunderville over the Sabbath.

—Our old friend and patron Wm. Albaugh, of Church Hill, gave us a pleasant call one day last week.

—Mrs. J. M. Crosby, of Bradford, has been the guest during the past week of her cousin, Miss Artie Robinson.

—Ex Commissioner Willis Kerr, of Clarion county, was shaking hands with Tionesta friends last Wednesday.

—Fred Gillespie, who recently moved from Whig Hill to Kellettsville, was in town last Wednesday, and gave the REPUBLICAN a friendly call.

—David Edwards came up from Sharon Monday to accompany his wife home, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Clark.

—Joseph Martin, Frank H. Shanly, J. D. Thompson and E. G. Cross, of Tidouite, were down last Thursday to take a look at Tionesta's fine poultry show.

—Aaron Passauer and wife, for two years past residents in the Indian Territory oil regions, returned to their former home in Tionesta township yesterday morning.

—Messrs. A. R. Slangenbaupt and A. R. Mechling, of Clarion, came over last week to see the poultry show, remaining a couple of days with Tionesta friends.

—Misses Alice McCrea and Kate Guenther, teachers at Kellettsville, and Blanche Hunter, teacher of Mayburg school, were with Tionesta friends a short time during the past week.

—Miss Iva Carpenter, teacher of room No. 2 of the borough high school, is suffering with an attack of grip. Prof. Morrison is looking after her work, while M. A. Carringer, Esq., is in charge of the principal's room.

—Midshipman Hiram L. Irwin visited his uncle S. D. Irwin, Esq., Monday, before leaving for his post of duty in the U. S. Navy, having been ordered to report for duty on the battleship Philadelphia on the 14th inst.

—We are sorry to report the continued serious illness of S. J. Wolcott, at his home in this place. His son, Will Wolcott, who has been in the Indian Territory oil field, was summoned home, arriving here Tuesday morning.

—John W. Grose, a former well known teacher in this county, and cousin of the Grose brothers of this place, died in Franklin on Sunday last, and was buried in Grove Hill cemetery, Oil City, yesterday. He leaves but one brother surviving.

—Rev. Dr. Slonaker will begin his pastorate of the Presbyterian church in this place next Sabbath. His subject for the morning discourse will be "Readiness." In the evening, "Christ drawing the earth Heavenward." Everybody cordially invited.

—Tionesta friends have word from the family of Hobart H. Stow, of Toledo, O., stating that Mr. Stow is seriously ill with rheumatism, requiring the constant attention of a skilled nurse. His many friends in this section will hope anxiously for more favorable word from him.

—Asa W. Heath, of Hunter Run, was a caller at the REPUBLICAN office Monday. Mr. Heath's wife has been sick for some weeks, and his friends will be sorry to learn that her condition does not seem to improve as rapidly as they could wish, largely owing to the severity of the winter weather.

—F. A. Keller is this week moving his household goods to his farm at Byrontown, where the family will take up their abode again, after a three year's residence in Tionesta. Mr. Keller will devote most of his time to high class poultry raising, for which his reputation is quite well established.

—Charles Klinefister, of Nebraska, has our thanks for one of his monster prize buff wyandotte chickens, which the editor's family will proceed to "discuss" without unnecessary delay. Charlie's chickens drew first prizes at the show last week, and we think this one will be a prize when we have "scored him up."

—John H. Shunk, of Whig Hill, was a visitor in town last week for a few hours. Mr. Shunk has passed through a serious siege of sickness in his family during the past three months, his wife being ill for many weeks and under the care of a trained nurse, Miss Margaret Small. She is now improving nicely and bids fair to fully recover her wonted health.

—J. R. Osgood returned here on Friday from a visit with his partner, Alfred Sperry, of Cleveland, who was dangerously injured in a collision between a street car and fast train on the Lake Shore several weeks ago. He found Mr. Sperry much improved and out of danger, but the patient will not be able to be out of the house for several weeks.—[Derriek.]

—Among the friends and relatives from out of town who attended the funeral here last Friday of the baby of Rev. and Mrs. A. H. M. Zahniser, were Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Zahniser, of Sharon; Rev. A. D. Zahniser, of Pittsburg; H. M. Zahniser, Jr., of Willsburg, W. Va.; Mrs. J. W. Dewalt, of Tidouite; Mr. and Miss Newton, of Eldred, Pa., father and sister of the bereaved mother; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hartman and A. M. Hunter, of Mayburg.

—Messrs. S. C. Hoovler and J. C. Hoovler, of Tionesta, were Kane visitors over night, while en route home from a business trip east.—[Kane Republican.]

—Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Rouse, of Oil City, who attended the funeral of Rev. Mr. Zahniser's baby last Friday, made the REPUBLICAN a pleasant visit during their stay in town.

—Prothonotary Geist on Monday received the sad intelligence of the death of a railroad accident at Butler of his nephew, Bert Swab, and left to-day to be present at the funeral. He had no particulars as to the fatality. The young man's mother is Mr. Geist's elder sister. He was aged 18 years, and was one of a party of Butler gentlemen who spent a week hunting here last fall.

—Last Thursday was Capt. C. W. Clark's 78th birthday, and when he came home for his dinner he found seated about the table upward of a dozen of his children and grandchildren, who had gathered to surprise and congratulate him on the pleasant occasion. The Captain is a well-preserved man for one of his age, and it is pleasing to his many friends to know that he is enjoying good health.

—Among the visitors whom we noticed in town Friday night to attend the Odd Fellows' banquet, were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Will Gillespie, of Kellettsville; Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson, of Stewart Run; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dewoddy, of Fox Creek; J. R. Ault, of Tylersburg, and W. W. Carson and Miss Nellie Carson, of West Hickory.

—Many friends in this vicinity of Miss Emma Kiser, of Wilkensburg, will watch with interest the progress of the voting in a contest inaugurated by the Pittsburg Leader by which that paper is sending a party of 40 young ladies on a European pleasure trip. Miss Kiser is one of the popular young ladies who is being voted for, and if the present ratio keeps up will be one of the successful ones, having already exceeded the 20,000 mark.

ELOPERS IN LIMBO.

Capt. Caulkins and His Eloping Partner Arrested in Bellefonte.

The sensational topic in society circles for the past while back has been the disappearance from this section of two well known personages, the sequel to which is gathered from the reports of an arrest that took place in Bellefonte, Pa., last week, the particulars of which are gleaned from the papers of that city. The following account is from the Keystone Gazette:

"Wednesday N. A. Caulkins and Mrs. Mazie Hoovler, both of Forest county, Pa., were arrested at State College and brought to Bellefonte and placed behind the bars in the county jail, upon the information of Samuel C. Hoovler, who now resides at Tionesta, Pa. After arriving in Bellefonte Wednesday in custody of officer H. H. Montgomery they were taken to Squire Keichline's office where a commitment was made out. Mr. Caulkins and Mrs. Hoovler are charged with adultery. On the way to the jail a very dramatic scene occurred in which Mrs. Hoovler fainted, and these in charge were compelled to carry her part way up the hill. When in the jail she fainted again and a physician was quickly summoned, who found the young woman in a very serious condition. They were placed in separate cells and Mrs. Hoovler was made as comfortable as possible.

"Wednesday morning the elopers were given a hearing before Squire Keichline. Here another sad and really pathetic scene occurred. The effects of Mrs. Hoovler's attacks during the night rendered her so weak that she sent word to her husband, who was in town, to come to see her. He refused her request, whereupon she demanded to be brought down to the hearing. When on the way down she again fainted and was brought into the justice's office in that condition, when she became hysterical and would pitifully plead: 'Send for mama. For God's sake send for mama. Can't I have mama with me?' She was finally taken back to jail, from whence she will, in all likelihood be removed to the hospital, while Capt. Caulkins was bound over to court, and, not being able to secure bail, was returned to jail.

"The story of their escapade is as follows: Samuel C. Hoovler resided with his family, consisting of Mrs. Hoovler and one child, at a lumber town called Hickory in Forest county. Mr. Caulkins has a wife and two children residing at Oil City, Pa., is a photographer, and as a side issue institutes lodges of Sons of Veterans. Some months ago this gentleman made his headquarters at Hickory. A month ago Mr. Caulkins suddenly disappeared as did also the wife of Mr. Hoovler. It was supposed that they were together, but their whereabouts was unknown until a subscriber to the Gazette in Forest county noticed Mr. Caulkins' name in connection with our report of the installation of Gregg Post officers, which took place Saturday evening, January 14. Correspondence was immediately opened between Mr. Hoovler and W. H. Musser, who was elected commander of the Post, which resulted in definitely locating the runaway couple.

"On Wednesday of this week, Samuel Hoovler, the husband, and his father, J. C. Hoovler, arrived in Bellefonte, and, after consulting the authorities, concluded to effect their arrest—the officer finding them together in a room in the State College Hotel, presumably as man and wife.

"The couple came here on December 15th and engaged lodging at Philip Beezer's boarding house, where they lived quietly together, apparently unmindful of the wrongs they had done to their families."
